The Scale Colour System Bass Vol Scales is a comprehensive and innovative approach to learning bass guitar scales. This system uses a unique color-coding system to help you visualize and internalize the patterns of different scales, making it easier to learn and apply them in your playing.

How the Scale Colour System Works

The Scale Colour System is based on the idea that each note in a scale has a specific color. These colors are assigned based on the interval between the note and the root note of the scale. For example, the root note is always red, the major second is orange, the major third is yellow, and so on.

By color-coding the notes of a scale, you can create a visual representation of the scale that makes it easier to remember and understand. This can be especially helpful for beginners who are just starting to learn scales.

Benefits of Using the Scale Colour System

There are many benefits to using the Scale Colour System to learn bass guitar scales. These benefits include:

- Easier to visualize and remember scales. The color-coding system makes it easier to see the patterns of different scales, which can help you to remember them more easily.
