Traditional publishers have access to a wide range of resources, and they can help you with everything from editing to marketing.

Self-publishing is the process of publishing your book yourself. This is a more affordable option than traditional publishing, but it also requires more work. You'll need to do everything from editing to formatting to marketing your book yourself.

There are a number of different self-publishing platforms available, such as:

Once your book is published, it's time to start selling it. There are a number of different ways to sell your book, such as:

- Online retailers
- Brick-and-mortar bookstores
- Social media

Online retailers are a great way to reach a large audience. Amazon is the largest online retailer in the world, and it's a great place to sell your book. Other popular online retailers include Barnes & Noble, Apple Books, and Google Play.

Brick-and-mortar bookstores are a great way to connect with local readers. If you have a local bookstore, you should reach out to them and see if they're interested in carrying your book.

Social media is a great way to promote your book to your followers. You can create social media posts about your book, run contests and giveaways, and connect with other authors and readers.
